The audience in the Montanosa town is captivated by Berger and his musicians.

The Butte Miner says of the Hawaiian Band:

Something of a novelty in the musical line is the Royal Hawaiian Band, which appeared at the Broadway theater yesterday afternoon and last evening. The band is one of the best brass organizations that has ever appeared in this city and, in addition, a varied program is rendered, consisting of a number of selections by the Hawaiian Glee Club and some delightful numbers by soloists.

Chpt. Berger, head of the Hawaiian Band, is doing much of the credit for the success of the organization. From the unskilled and practically uneducated Kanakas, Capt. Berger has picked out his musicians, teaching and instructing them until they have become proficient in the use of the instruments selected. Today the Royal Hawaiian Band is one of the most finished and accomplished musical organizations in the world, capable of appearing before the severest critics.

AUDIENCE DELIGHTED.

The audience at the Broadway last evening was simply captivated with the performance of the foreigners. The program rendered was varied and was of such a nature as to delight even the most fastidious and to appeal to those who have not been educated to the classics.

A feature of the program were the renditions of the glee club. The Hawaiians have a number of high-class soloists, not to mention a combination of songsters hard to beat. The vocal numbers were all well received, while the band numbers simply carried away the audience.

Owing to the unimpeachable conglomeration of cognomens, it would be useless to mention names. Miss Lei Laha and John S. Ellis are entitled to especial mention. Miss Lehua has a voice of wonderful sweetness and Mr. Ellis proved that he is a singer of finish and talent.

Last evening's recital was attended by a number of representative Butte music patrons. The program from start to finish was received with applause.

A feature of the recital was a medley of national airs, played by ear by the musicians from sunny Hawaii. Below is the complete program:

PART I.
